e animation prevailed at Saturday's than was the case on Thursday. The are was well filled with Alexandria race racing than was the case on Thursday. The enclosure was well filled with Alexandria race-goers, as well as a number of well-known racing men from Cairo. As on the first day the weather left nothing to be desired, and, given the excellent playing of the R. Berks. band, under Bandmaster Dore, all the elements for spending a plassant afternoon were present. As to the meing, this was decidedly of a more interesting character than Thursday's. The events were well contested and the handicapping was admirable. Moreover, the course means a great deal. The first event, the May Solling Hasoe, was won fairly easily by Sir Visto from Firetly, who made a plucky effort to win. The Ounnium Stakes was a gift to Bandusia. In the Montanh Plate, El Tahawi, on his previous form, was most fancied, but in the event Sweetie won a close race from Radium, who was also well patronised by backers. The Owners' Handicap provided the surprise of the day, being quite an outsiders' race. Lattif was generally conceded to win, while Roland and Sadit were supposed to have a very good chance. As a matter of fast, and An Revol't being declared to win with either of the two former, but the result was to upper all calculations. The winner turned up in Ar Savoir, with Amory and Abon Arkon's clones. Abou Aroub second and third respectively. Backers of the winning mount were rewarded by a 32 to 1 chance. The Khedivial Club Ony went to Hassan Pasha Mohen, whose Gogo, carrying 9 st., including 7 lb. penalties, won as he liked by five lengths from Pahd. The Pony Stakes afforded a fine race, which Saleik was comparatively easily. The most of the afternoon's lock west to Khalif Pasha Khayat, who not three out of the six races. RUSSIAN PRAYERS FOR TOGO!

It warms the people that there is, unshapily, an increasingly greater chance of victory, as recreatablly which would give, temporally at least, a renewed lesse of life and oppressive power to the autocracy and bornscarces, "Every liberal and patriotic Resisian," the proclamation proceeds, "must hope and pray m rating the national moderate process.

Sit.—I notice in yesterday's 'Gaacte' a leading article on the Quarantine Board, wherein you display some acepticism as to the possibility of the Powers agreeing to the conditions which the Egyptian Government has laid down as precedent to its acceptance of the conclusions of the Paris Sanitary Conference. The question of the advisability of the virtual abolition of the Quarantine Board is very similar to that of the Capitulations. The general opinion is that, however annoying in some respects the Capitulations are, yet if they are abolished in favor of the authority of the Ministry of Justice, the renedy will be far worse than the disease. Of course, this opinion is only privately stated in Carin, for even here some of as have the privilege of giving event to conclusion and private, but I find it is generally industry and private, but I find it is generally industry and private, but I find it is generally industry and private, but I find it is generally industry and private, but I find it is generally industry and privately the private of the To the Editor of the Egyptian Gazetti the Quarantine Board when Mr. Graham tried to show on whose shoulders rested the respon-sibility of the advent of the last cholera epi-demic in Egypt. With such instances, and others which I need not mention, are the Powers justified in handing over the important duties of the Quarantine Board to this administration! Would not the remedy in this case also be worse than the disease !— I am,

PIGEON SHOOTING.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EGYPTIAN GAZETTE

To the Editors of the Editorial Galette.

Sir.—In residing your account to-day of the macing hald on the A.S.C. grounds, I noticed you made mention of some boardings which had been erected in connection with the "proposed pigeon shooting contests." Am I to infer therefore that our English Sporting Club is about to take up this obnoxions form of "sport." If so, I for one protest in the name of the poor birds which are to be made a target of by unfeeling "sportumen."

A notable instance of the growing disfavour with which pigeon-shooting is now regarded is supplied by the Herlingham Club. The club, which came into existence for the purpose of encouraging pigeon-shooting, now proposes Pulham, after the end of the cut in grounds at the propose of the whice and the best-known and most genutuse are in Begland.

It is to be hoped that the lead thus given may be generally followed, and that the A.S.C. may be induced to reconsider the question, and if unfortunately a decision has already been arrived at to introduce this objectionable practice, hat such a retrograde step may be reversed, and, as in the case of the Huringham Cloth, some less objectionable and more enlightened form of an amsengent be substituted.
