the Land and Mortgage Company of Egypt should afford considerable encouragement to the various land and trust companies which have been lately started in Egypt, for if this have been lately started in Egypt, for if this company can find such scope for useful and extensive operations, there is no reason why the new ventures should not have equally pleasant prospects. That the making of loans on first mortgage can be made remunerative is evidence of by the satisfactory story which the chair-man, Sir E. L. Pemberton, had to tell at the meeting in London on Saturday week. The dividend of 10 per cent. is the highest ever chested by the company. The chairman exdeclared by the company. The chairman ex-plained that although in consequence of in-creasing competition the rate of interest had creasing competition the late of interest had been reduced, the loans were so well placed that no falling off in the business need be anticipated. Looking at the above results, it is evident that the company's prosperity is increasing with that of the country generally.

There is a sort of disposition still prevalent to regard these little people as filling, more or less, the part of the "missing link," but low though they stand in the comparative social scale, they seem to present no marked features whatever to warrant their being placed outside the class of various other ill-developed peoples. Even the silence and spathy of which so much has been made are fully paralleled among the Indian forest races of South America. They are directly attributable to the oppressive gloom and monotony of the surroundings in which for generations they have passed their enormous and continuous increase in the size of modern vessels the present entry by way of the Boghar pass is too small for the largest type of ships. For instance, when the White Star liner "Celtic" arrived here the season before last she hal to lie outside the harbour.

The Boghar pass is only 31 feet in depth and can only admit as a maximum vessels drawing from 29 to 30 feet of water, and then only in the smoothest sea. The new pass is to be dredged to the depth of 35 feet and will thus be able to admit the largest ships alots.

The dredger, which arrives from Malta tomorow, is convoyed by H. M. S. "Juno," a second-class crainer under the command or Captain Christian, R.N. This dredger, the 'St. Lawrence,' belongs to the Admiralty and is of the type known as "Sainta." She has very powerful machinery and it is expected that her dredging capacity is approximately six hundred tons per hour.

The construction of the new pass will be gird at once. It will make the harbour most efficient, for the alternative entrance will be sepcially useful when one or otherof the passes gets blocked. The new pass will be the same as the present pass from a navigator's point of view, with leading lights.

The Pots and Lighthouses Administration is also negotiating with the Admiralty for the hire of a second dredger for the same work. Another dredger is arriving from Cyprus in aboutten days' time.

SAVOY HOTEL, ASSOUAN.

Apart from profits derived from the usual sources of business, a special profit has been made on the sale of the £50xy Hotel at Assouan-which has been transferred for a sum of £60,000 to the newly-formed Upper Egypt Hotels Co. The sale was made for cash, and the second instalment of £50,000 has been paid over since the accounts have been closed. The directors are of opinion that this profit should be considered as extraordinary and dealt with accordingly. They therefore propose that ten thousand pounds shall be placed to reserve and that the whole of the preliminary expenses, amounting to L.E. 2,983.202 m/m, be written off. The continued existence of this account, which has no realisable value, appears to them undesirable. The directors, although entitled by law and precedent to their percentage of this profit, are strongly of opinion that in cases where a profit is dealt with as extraordinary and not distributed by way of dividend, the Board should also forego their claim to a share in it. No deduction on this socount has therefore been made.

REDEMPTION OF DEBENTURES.

The sale of the Savoy Hotel had allowed of the amortisation of the debenture debt of the company amounting to £35,000. The interest on these debentures at the rate of six per cent. constituted a heavy charge for the company and the directors are confident, that should occasion to borrow arise in the future, they will be able to do so on more advantageous terms. As amortisation only commensed as from May 1, no change is shown in the balance-sheet in the total amount of debentures outstanding on 30th April, 1904.

In no canage is shown in the octaneous sease the total amount of debentures outstanding on 30th April, 1904.

Out of a total issue of £35,000, £1,500 had already been redeemed; this amount, being in the nature of a reserve, will now be definitely transferred to that fund which, with the proposed addition of LE, 10,000 and the existing sum of LE, $41,164 m/m, will then amount to over LE, 12,000. The directors have decided that the reserve fund shall be invested outside the ordinary business of the company's capital remaining at the present time unespaged, the means by which if can be profitably employed are having the careful consideration of the board.

A. S. C. A1 TO THE BOITO

It will be interesting to Cairo residents to learn that in a fortnight's time all possibility of shortage of water supply will be removed as by that time the Water Company will have started pumping water from the artesian wells at Rod-el-Farag, which will enable them to pump an extra 25,000 cubic metres of water per day, should the necessity grise. This method of water supply will be continued for two years, when, if it is found satisfactory, the system will be entirely adopted, and the present system done away with. But in the meantime should the amount pumped from the artesian wells prove insefficient they will be able to pump from the plant at present in use, and thus prevent any shortage.

Ragarding the insufficient supply, of which we have of late received complaints, we learn that the maximum amount which the company is compelled to pump per day, according to the contract with the Government, is 30,000 cubic metres, whereas they have pumped 63,101,940 litres of water so far this year, whilst during the corresponding period last year they only pumped 44,835.880 litres, thus making an increase of 23,265,660 litres.

We have mentioned before that the price of ice as supplied by the company is P.T. 3-5 per block. The company informs us that they sell the whole of the ice produced to Mesers.
